WAS LOST

nestion of Consideration—The Tariff I clared to be an Irrepressible Issue— Senstor Bayard in Pexas, Etc.

WASHINGTON, July 2 - During the past week there have been several important conferences of democratic senators in this city and New The democratic leaders recognize this as a critical period for the party, and they are struggling to give it a start that will carry it through 1884 without wrecking. The tone of discussion in these conferences has been strongly adverse to the protection platform advocated by the Sam. Randall wing of the party, and a definite programme antagonistic to the Pennsylvania candidate for speaker has been agreed upon. The senators do not want it understood that they propose to dictate the organization of the next house, but that is precisely what they are after, sugar-coat the pill as they may to conceal the purpose of its operations. Sen been exceedingly active ator Beck, the free trad. leader of the senare, up this movement, which presumably is in favor of Mr. Carlisle, although it is claimed that the object is to lay down a policy and not to favor or defeat in-dividuals. Mr. Beck and his colleagues recognize the fact that unless they can succeed in harmonizing their party upon a common platform before next winter their chances of success in 1884 will dwindle into insignificance, and it is to that end they are laborated ing A great majority of the democratic senators lean strongly toward free trade. Randall's election to the speakership would render concert of action between the democrats of the house and senate impossible failure of the two bodies to act would tear the pariy to pieces and ruin the prospects of democratic success next year. A long key-note stump speech from Senator Beck, in the form of an interview on the situation, has en telegraphed to the Louisville Courier-burnal and Cincinnati News-Journal, interview, the senator

Il other questions are by com-n consent of both parties supordinate to s overshadowing issue—the tariff. I confi dently expect the house will not organize in direct antagonism to the well-known views of the democratic senators, and a very large element in the house on this question, and in support of Mr. Sherman and his allies. It will organize so that we can act in harmony during the next session of congress, and enter upon the contest of 1884 with the dem-ocrats of both houses in full accord."

that subject. The land which has been sold is not well fitted for agricultural purposes; it is there adapted for grazing and is situated west of longitude 100. That section has to be irrigated, and hence is not as fertile as other company."

"Have you heard the question of presiden-tial candidates discussed in the state?"
"Not generally. We have no election in the state this fall; consequently p ities are not much discussed. Still, I have heard the names of several distinguished centlemen mentioned favorably. Mr. Hendricks has some supporters in Texas, especially among those who have come from Indiana. Mr. Hewitt is also spoken of. But of all the canles, Senator Bayard is most promi-ly mentioned, and his friends most pronounced in their expressions. is a man of good abilities, a states man, and having passed beyond the period of youthful fauries, would act in a wise manner, endeavoring to benefit the whole country.

Staurton, Virginia, July 2.—Elam's wound At the last national convention the Texas delegation was divided between General Han cock and Senator Bayard. If Mr. Bayard had shown a majority on the first vote, Texas would have given him her vote."

Would Mr. Tilden's nomination be re "Really, I cannot say. From time to time we read about prospects of his nomination in the New York papers, but so far I have not heard his name spoken in my state."

"What position does the democracy occupy "What position does the democracy occupy the tariff question?"
"The democracy of Texas stand by the platform of the Cincinnati convention on that issue. We are in favor of a tariff for revenue only. As we look on the matter, there are many millions of dollars in excess of the needs of economical administration that might be saved to the people and thus benefit all classes. The democrats wish to lay equal bur dens on all classes, and thus protect the labor and the industries of the country.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Hon. J. H. Mur-pby, memoer to congress from the second lowa district, conversing to day on the outlook in his state for the fall election, said he believed the democrats had a very strong pros-pect of success. "This conviction," he went on to say, "is not confined exclusively to one party. I find it shared by democrats and republicans alike. By reason of this fact a large number of the liberal republicans, who have hitherto acted with that party, will refuse longer to support it and will vote the democratic ticket this fall. They have long desired to break away, and this paign of 1884 Again, a great number of the liberals are not well pleased with the conduct of the majority of their party, and their dis-pleasure is so lotensified with the party's ac-tion on the prohibition question that they will vote the democratic ticket this fall. Again, I have observed all over the state that most of the new voters, the young men, are coming over to the democratic ranks."

"Then in your opinion these elements will the large republican majority of Iowa this fall?

"I tuink that all these elements combined will give the state to the democratic party this fall. I believe that the chances are favorable for the democrats, no withstanding the large republican majorities of the past. If the democrats are successful at all they will elect their entire ticket, including the governor, and will also elect a majority in the legislature, which will be called upon to elect a United States senator. Thus lowa will pass from the control of the repuolicans to that of perats for the first time in twenty-eight amidst

I would commence to raise the revenue by a heavy tax on luxuries, and if the amount thus obtained was not sufficiently large I would then tax the conveniences with the hope that the necessa-ries of life that the poorer class of people have to use would escape the burden.

"Who is looked upon as the most desirable candidate for the nomination of 1884?"
"No man knows what an hour may bring forth. This fall's election will determine, in my judgment, the presidential candidate. I can say this, however, that if the democratic convention was to be held this summer Iowa convention was to be held this summer lows would support Mr. McDonald, of Idniana. He would be my choice, with the Hon Roswell P. Flower as vice-president. This would be pretty certain to give us two great states— Indiana and New York. This ticket, too, would represent the brains and wealth of the A BOLT THREATENED.

DUBUQUE, Ia., June 29 — Many of the republicans of this city are far from being pleased with the action of the state convention, and declare that they will bolt the ticket. One of the delegates remarked that it was not a of the delegates remarked that it was not a republican convention, but a Methodist conference. The Germans will go back on the ticket almost en masse, and many American republicans declare the same intention.

From the New York World.

The battle of 1884 was really lost to the democracy in 1879.

In 1879 there was a breach in the democracy.

democracy in 1879
In 1879 there was a breach in the democratic party which the leaders made do efforts to heal. A large minority of the party obstinately refused to support Lucius Robinson for governor, but was ready to support any other democrat out of the 500,000 or more in the state. The majority set its face like ada-mant against concession and conciliation. The minority bolted, nominated John Kelly for governor, drew 70,000 votes from the den ocratic ticket and elected the republican car The influence and effect of this defeat stretched out into the election of 1880. But for the bad blood, the breach and the over-throw of 1879 the democrats would have car-ried New York in 1880 as surely as they did in 1874, 1876 and 1882. The electoral vote of the state would have been given to Hancock, and he, instead of Garfield, would have been president of the United States.

president of the United States.
This is the year preceding the presidential election of 1884, as 1879 was the year preceding the last presidential election. The republicans are now divided, while the democrats are united. Last year the republipublicans can candidate for governor was defeated and the democratic governor elected by the large majority of nearly 200,000 votes. It is incon-ceivable that the democrats of New York, in the light of the experience of 1879, will hrough local quarrels, precipitate a division his year and risk the loss of the state in the presidential contest next year.

The battle of 1880 was really lost in 1879. The democracy will make the battle of 1883 the forerunner of the victory of 1884.

THE HILL INVESTIGATION.

In the Hill investigation to-day, Witness Stinemetz continued his criticism of the bills for work performed on the New York post-office, item by item, pointing out a number which he claimed were about double the act ual cost of doing the work. George L Damon, of Boston, whom the prosecution allege to have been the evil genius of the architect's office, took the stand. He put in evidence the articles of incorporation of his company. the United States fire proof shutters company. Counsel Coleman and his clients have charged hat the company was not corporated. When the articles rporation were read, prosecution raised point that the concern was incorporated ew York, while its goods were manufactured in Massachusetts, hence they were manufactured illegally. The reply to this was that the company was privileged to manufacture wherever it could do so profitably. Damon then denied in toto having ever offered to bribe the Manley and Cooper company, and said that on the contrary he had told them that they would lose money if they attempted to fulfill their contract, and they had asked him how much he would give them to withdraw their bid. He declined to make an offer. More vouchers were called for and the committee adjourned to give the prosecution time to examine them.

THE CONTINENTAL GUARDS. The Continental Guards, of New Orleans, arrived here from Baltimore at 10 o'clock this morning. They were met at the Baltimore and Ohio depot by the Washington Light In fantry corps, four companies, and escorted to their quarters. After a brief rest they were taken in charge by a committee of citizens and members of the Light Infantry. At 12 'clock they embarked on the steamer Corcoran for a visit to Mount Vernon, and for a

The Governor Reading a Lecture to the Massachu setts Legislature

Boston, July 2.—Governor Butler has sent a long message to the legislature refusing to adjourn that body to August 27, as requested by the committee. He states that he ished to hear the reasons. ished to hear the reason, namely, that the legislature might act upon the re-port of the committee which has port of the committee which has been investigating the charges against the management of the Tewsbury almsbouse made by the governor. He claims to have made no charges. The investigation, he says, was prompted by legislative action, and he put any charges in writing, as it was not his duty to do so. The state board has carried out the reforms he ought to accomplish, and he asks why, for all practical purposes, has not the investigating committee fulfilled its object. The legislature can take no action against the supposed delipquents, for that has been done already. He suggests that it would do the legislature good to go home and read the printed report of its committee on the management of Tewksbury almshouse. He inquires why the members want the session lengutened, when they complain of their pay, intimating that the legislature has had ample time to accomptish its duties. He is confirmed in his opinion that the legislature cannot adjourn without his consent, and says of any supposed right of two houses to assemble without the consent of the governor, that it is a power, if it exists, that has not been exercised for more than a hundred years. He can conceive of a possible emergency, that would permit it, but that would be an emergency almost justifying revolutionary measures. The report of the Fewksbury investigating committee, which in his judgment, will not change the opinion or action of a single individual, is not an emergency.

you've been away." "I hear they have. Some of them at New York and elsewhere, I understand, had me burst. I killed and packed away in my cellars $250,000 worth of meats to-day, $250,000 yesterday and as much the day before. There has not been a day for months when at least that amount of meats has not been stored away. It takes from sixty to ninety days of preparation before the meat is ready for sale. Figure on it. All that stuff is paid for the day the cattle and hogs are driven into my yards. All through last winter's packing season up to May, I borrowed not a cent from any body. I paid for my cattle and hogs out of my own capital. We did our own banking. I've got $12,000,000 capital in this busines not including real estate, packing house, or any other such truck. #### The Popular Judgment.

It has been justly remarked that the popular independent deliberately made up, is correct and reliable. It stamps with its own peculiar seal whatever it approves. The reputation which survives its earching an i critical tests is established on a firm foundation. The regular meritarious earlies for the content of the con reaching an i critical tests is established on a firm foundation. The really meritorious article finds favor at first, but slowly and with many rebuffs: its inherent virtue continually asserts itself; its elasticity rebounds higher with every check, until it reaches the height of favor to which it is entitled. Burnett's Cocoaine for the hair and Burnett's Standard Flavoring Extracts for cooking purposes are articles in point. They have been before the public many years; one by one they acquired friends, then they counted their hundreds; then their thousands. Success created rivals; competition assailed them, but their sterling merits withstood all opposition, and the popular verdict was largely rendered in their favor.

These, together with Burnett's other Toilet Articles, are now "househole words," and in household use throughout the states and in many foreign countries.

They are of such admirable make as to combine substance with clegance—the supply of a genuine want with an appeal to the imagination in the poetry of their composition. And for these reasons Burnett's Preparations will enjoy an ever-increasing sale, and ever-brightening reputation.

The trouble originated, it appears, from some remarks made about Lucy Bacon. The serious charge had been brought sgainst her that slie was bow-legged, a physical malformation in which she is no wise responsible. They met at a well and a quarrel commenced. Bill picked up a beam of wood and fired at Sid, the effects of the blow being received by a well post. Sid, who had been cleanof wood and fired at Sid the effects of the blow being received by a well post. Sid, who had been cleaning his finger nails (an unusual preformance for a negro), opened the big blade of his knife and proceeded to carve up his antagonist in the most artistic manner. The jugular vein on the left side of the neck was cut. He was cut on the arm. Kendricks did not live but a few moments after receiving the fatal wound. The verdict of the coroner's jury was to the effect that Bill Kendricks came to his death from a knife in the hands of Sid Lowe.

Campbell County News-Fetter: When Sam Brantley went to haul upbis wheat after it had been threshed last week found two sacks missing. After looking for some time, he finally found them snugly hid away under the straw pile. He at once came to the conclusien that some thief had hidden the sacks there, expecting to come back after dark and get them. So he left the wheat where it was, and after supper loaded up his pisol and slipped down and hid himself in the straw pile, prepared to give the thief a warm reception when he came. After waiting patiently all night to get a shot at the thief, he learned that some of the town boys had hidden his wheat for a joke, and he was consequently as mad as a wet hen.

Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pan in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief. I thought I would try Brown's Iron Bitters; I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—pain in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gahning in strength and flesh. ## LAGERGREN'S DEATH.

THE MYSTERY OF THE MACON SUI-

A Ct tzan of Omaha, He Mysteriously Disappear The News of the Suicide, and His Identifica-tion as Being the Missing Man-The Story of the Suicide-Last Letter.

From the St. Louis Republican.

A remarkable case of mysterious disappearance and its solution came to the surface in this city last night. The prologue is contained in the following special to the Republican:

"Omaha, Neb., June 29.—John Lagergren, nown as John Branch, about three weeks known as John Branch, about three weeks ago opened a photograph gallery in this city on the corner of Webster and Sixteenth streets. About fourteen days ago he started for St. Louis for the purpose of procuring ma-terial to stock his gallery, leaving his sister to run affairs during his absence. His intention was to return to Omaha within live or six days. He took between $500 and $600 with him, and since his departure nothing has been received from him by his sister. Yes-terday a friend volunteered to try to find him. It is feared foul play is the cause of his dis-

The following clipping, from a Macon, (Ga.)

The following clipping, from a Macon, (Ga.) paper, received yesterday, by the chief of police, throws light on the disappearance. The question is, what became of the $600?

"On Thursday fast a neatly dressed and somewhat handsome man, came to Macon from Atlanta, and registered at Eason's boarding house on Plum street, as J. F. Lagergren. He was assigned to room No. 4, and it was not until Monday that any special attention was directed to him. He appeared to be gloony and despondent, but as he conversed but attel, he gave no clew as to who and what he was or from whence he came, other than that he remained for a few days in Atlanta.

he remained for a few days in Atlanta.

When Captain Eason mentioned the matter of board bill to him he said he had no money but was daily expecting some. On Monday night he sat upon the porch of the boarding-house until about ten o'clock, when he re-tired. Yesterday morning Captain Eason knocked upon the door and announced break-knocked upon the door and announced breakfast, but as Lagergren did not get up early, nothing was thought of his not answering.

About eleven o'clock yesterday the porter went into the room for the purpose of carrying in fresh water. A giance in the direction of the bed convinced the porter that its occupant was either dying or sleeping unaturally. He informed the inmates of the nouse, and a many water at the state of the porter.

He informed the inmates of the house, and a man was sent after a physician. Dr. L. Johnson arrived, but death Lad set its seal too deeply—be was beyond the aid of man. Dr. M. ttauer was also sent for, but when he came the poor suicide had breathed his last.

Outside the window of the room an empty bot le was picked up. It was a large mouthed bottle, usually sold for a dollar, and had contained 57½ grains of morphine. The label was scratched off. In the fireplace was a quantity of paper ashes, and this led to the belief that the unfortunate man had burned all his letters and papers so as to leave no clew all his letters and papers so as to leave no clev all his letters and papers so as to leave no clew of his name and people. A memorandum book was found among his effects, but many leaves, probably those that were written upon, were torn out and thrown into the fireplace. In this book was found a book-mark made of perforated card-board, with the name "Minnie" worked in blue crewel on one side, and on the other was a lock of jet black hair.

In his valise was found a large envelope containing a quarter quire of note paper, pur-chased from an Atlanta stationer. On one of tne sheets was the following letter, written in Swedish, which was translated by Mr. C. J.

Swedish, which was translated by Mr. C. J. Stroberg, and Mr. Oscar Lagerquist:

"Atlanta, June 19.—1 am now here at my place of destination, and how I feel cannot be very easily described. The atmosphere is clear and beautiful, and the city appears very inviting. I should enjoy myself here if I could earn anything, but the chances I consider slim. Will see how it goes. I am very tired after my journey, but still more discouraged, although that does not improve the prospect. If I get well you shall have a letter from me a ath. I am just wondering how it is with again. I am just wondering how it is with you.

Do not grieve, for such is life.

Your brother,

The letter is not addressed to any one, and may have been written to either brother or sis ter. No other scrap of his writing could be found except his autograph on the register.
Captain Eason notified Coroner Hodnett and ex inquest was held at 2 o'clock, the jury returning a verdict that the deceased came to his death from poison administered by his own hand.

It is not known what acquaintances were formed by Lagergren during his stay in Macon, other than a slight one with Mr. John Preston, working at the Central City iron werks. Our reporter saw Mr. Preston, but he knew very little of the suicide. He was with him at Eason's on Monday night, and noticed that Lugergren was in a gloomy mood. He said he was a painter by trade, and had formerly worked in Sacramento, Calitor-merely worked in Sacramento, Calitorhad formerly worked in Sacramento, Califor nia. He had relatives in St. Louis, where he wanted to go, not being able to find any employment here. He was expecting a letter from St. Louis, but it had not been received. It is supposed that he was without money, work or friends, and in a fit of despondency determined on suicide as the best way to end his troubles. The letter that he waited for, and which may have contained the means by which he could have reached his relatives, may be in the postoffice this morning. The dead man's purse contained only twenty-five cents. In his valise were some shirts and collars, beering no marks, and a blue striped linen suit nearly new. A silver watch and chain were also among his effects. He seemed to be about thirty years of age, was of medium height, and he wore a mustache and heavy goate of light sandy color. His remains will be buried to-day.

THE LUCKY MAN.

Raleigh Again Gets a Big Prize in the Louisiana State Lottery.

There is a time-honored saying that "light ning never strikes twice in the same place."
Once again it has been disproved. Two years ago Mr. P. M. Wilson drew one-half of a capital prize of $30,000. In the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, of the Louisiana State Lotter, held June 12th, one-tenth of the grand prize held June 12th, one-tenth of the grand prize of $150,000 was won by a Raleigh man. That fortunate individual was Mr. Gustave Rosenthal, a man who certainly deserves every smile or caress kind fortune may give. Yesterday afternoon a reporter paid him a call at his office on Fayetteville street, and found him, as usual, smiling and polite. At first he professed surprise at the congratulations of the reporter, who expressed his pleasure at such luck, but presently he acknowledged the fact, and showed two drafts for a total sum of $14,917,50. He sent his ticket through the express office, and received through one which are on New York, for the $15,000, less express and bank charges. The transaction was a prompt one, duly appreciated by such a business man. Mr. Rosenthal has long a business man. Mr. Rosenthal has long been recognized as one of the brightest of our business men. He was born in Germany, and came to this state in 1859, his home being in Caswell county. In the spring of 1861 he came to Raieigh, and this city has ever since been his home. He has twice been a member of the board of aldermen and has served in that tapacity with marked ability, being chairman of the most important committee. He has for years been Secretary of being chairman of the most important committee. He has for years been Secretary of the Falls of Neuse Manufacturing Company, the affairs of which he has conducted with skill. The reporter, after a pleasant chat with this lucky citizen, who certainly has cause to remember the Louisiana State Lottery Company, again congratulated him and left.—Raleigh (N. C.) THE Greensboro Home Journal, in gathering facts from the farm, and presenting them to the people in attractive form, is doing a good work. It is just such work as finds ap preciation, and pays best in the long run.

MR. HEALY has been elected to parliament from Monaghan. In a speech yesterday he practically announces the reopening of the land agitation, having its headquarters among the men of Ulster, who propose to keep the flag flying until something substantial is Corrorations are credited with having n souls, though they have just about as much as the average jury which sits in judgment against them in damage suits. That railroad company, however, which is reported in our dispatches as having redeemed over $20,000 in trade dollars which it had paid out to its employes, must be credited with the performance of a noble act.

THE TRADE DOLLARS. The trade dollar that was long ago driven out of Georgia, and is now in a fair way to be expelled from the rest of the country, was never intended for home circulation. It was turned out of the mint for consumption in China and Japan, where it was in demand instead of the Mexican silver dollar, and where we were at the time very desirous of extend ing our trade. But as it contained 420 grains of silver against 4121/2 grains in the standard dollar, it was kept at home in large quantities—it did in fact command a premium in greenbacks when it was first issucd. The price of silver has since fallen, and the country has no use for the unrecog nized dollar. It has in fact become a public nuisance, and it should be shipped to the far east or sent to the melting pots. As it is driven out of the northern states, our merchants and other people who handle coin should see that none of it is driven this way. It will seek a refuge anywhere that an employe can be found who is mean enough to pay it out at its face value. The loss in all such cases falls on the poor and ignorant, and such losses can be avoided altogether in the south by giving the discredited dollar the cold shoulder.

The intrinsic value of the trade dollar is 86.52 cents; of the standard dollar, 84.93 cents, and of the Mexican dollar about 85.50 cents The trade dollar bears no certificate of the government, beyond a statement of its weight and fineness. Its coinage was authorized in February, 1873, and at the close of the fiscal year, 1881-82, there had been coined 35,-959 360. Most of these pieces have been ex ported. As these pieces are simply stamped ingots, the proposition to have the government redeem them, is a proposition to give the speculators a profit of from thirteen to fif teen per cent. It will never be done, for the and sufficient reason that silver is now #### worth only about 50 pence an ounce. THE NEW TARIFF.

The changes made by the last congress in the tariff bill, went into effect yesterday. The new rates will create no commoin any branch of trade. As a they are not considerable rule anough to change prices. The woolen manu facturers say the difference in the rates is not large enough to cause large importations. The carpet makers are serene. The iron men say that present prices forbid importation. The dealers in cotton goods say the present rates are protective. The truth no one is hurt by the present tariff except consumers; for it is practically as prohibitive as the old one. It is so prohibitive that it will not in many items put any money in the treasury, although it will take millions out of the pockets of the people. But so it will be until a tariff is constructed in the interest of the people, instead of a closely knit band of monopolists.

The new tariff will doubtless promote trade. Branches of trade and manufactures that have been stopped in anticipation of the changes will now be started, and the activity will doubtless make good the lack of it that preceded the change. Men will see, too, that the changes are not great enough to make any difference in their old calculations, and things will soon get back in the old ruts, and the consumer will continue to pour his earnings into the public treasury, and in a much larger stream into the pockets of the millowners.

The chief changes inaugurated yesterday can be briefly stated. Most chemical products will pay lower rates, but the duty on borax is increased, and the tax on opium nearly doubled. Pepper has been put on the free list. Crockery and glassware will pay from ten to fifty per cent more. The duty on iron and its manufactures is generally lower, | felt that he had done his duty in leaving the but iron ore and wrought iron are exceptions. The chief reduction is in railway bars, Sugars will pay from twenty-five to fifty per cent less, and the tests will be made by the polariscope. Tobacco wrappers will pay double what they did. The duties on cotton and cotton goods are slightly reduced, while those on hemp, jute and flax goods remain about he same, and so do those on silk and silk speak for Mr. Angier the fair hearing that are not materially reduced. The duty on paper and dried pulp is lower. A number of articles are put on the free list, including macaroni and engravings, etchings, etc., more than twenty years old. The duty on paintings and sculpture, on the other hand, was increased from ten to thirty per cent.

THE PROTECTION OF COTTON.

A telegram from Atlanta to some of the northern and western papers says that the circular of the railroad commission in relation to the protection of cotton and other merchandise offered to the railroads for ship ment indicates the tendency of the commission to take charge of the details of railroads. The telegram in question was probably rather hastily prepared. The circular of the commission gives force and effect to a principle of law that has been recognized ever since there was a common carrier in the statenamely, that the common carrier who undertakes to transport freight and merchandise shall be responsible for such damages as may result after the freight and merchandise have been consigned to his care.

The circular of the commission recognizes the rights of the railroads as well as the rights of shippers, for while the former are to exereise due diligence and caution in preventing damage to freights consigned to their care for immediate shipment, they are not compelled to receive such freights unless the packages are carefully marked and prepared and intended for immediate shipment. The New York Times says that such a circular would e unnecessary in New York, as all the roads in that state have long ago found it profitable to provide protection for merchandise offered for shipment.

This is simply another form of saving that New York is not a cotton-growing state. The railroads of New York state, relatively speaking, are no more enterprising than the rail roads in Georgia, and the best of them, in our opinion, are not as well managed as our own roads, all things considered. The great trouble in Georgia is the carelessness with which cotton planters pick and handle their crops. They carry it to the railroad stations in bad condition, fling it upon the ground and leave it to the winds and rains. If planters had required the roads to protect their cotton, ample protection would have been afforded ong ago

It is only recently that the losses sustained by exposing cotton to the weather and the damp ground at railroad stations have attracted attention, and the commission has only given shape to what ought to be the policy of the railroads.

REUNION OF THE FIRST GEORGIA.

Many of the veterans will pass through our ity to-day going to the reunion of the First Georgia regiment at Gainesville. The rem nents of this regiment will be on hand to shake bands after a separation of twenty three years. They met in Macon in the firs days of April, 1861, and little did these men know what was before them. The regiment was composed of some of the best men in the state, mostly of volunteer companies that had been trained for years. The regimen erved twelve months, and was disbanded at the end of the term- of enlistment. It was probably the only regiment that was ever disbanded in the confederacy. After the twelve month's service in Virginia under General Lee and General Stonewall Jackson, they re-entered service-many of them re-enlisting in cavalry and artillery. Large numbers were commissioned officers in other regiments. The survivors of this old regiment who meet at New Holland springs on the 4th. are a jolly set of men, brave soldiers and earnest citizens.

CAPTAIN W T NEWMAN.

Without meaning to disparage the newly elected city attorney, who is a young lawyer of ability and a man of character, there is no disguising the fact that the defeat of Captain W. T. Newman will be received this morning as a public calamity.

He is esteemed, and justly in our opinion, the ablest corporation lawyer in the state of Georgia. For more than a decade he guided Atlanta through the legal quickshoals that abound in the way of every growing city, with a skill and sagacity that is simply astonishing. Through the changing forms of city government, under new and varying charters, he has been the steadfast, the honored and the unfailing counsellor of the city fathers, and not one single mistake can be charged to his advice. In twelve years, in which suits for damages. involving every possible shade of corporation responsibility, were of almost daily oc currence, but two verdicts of more than $1,000 have been placed against the city, and but one verdict of $5,000 rendered, and this case has been to the supreme court four sepa rate times and is still undetermined. Indeed in all aspects, his length of term and heaviness of dusties considered, Captain Newman has been the best officer, in our opinion, the city of Atlanta has ever had, and his record stands as a lasting monument to his industry. his ability, his tireless devotion and his per-

He has held the office for the past two of three years at considerable personal sacrifice and against the advice of his friends. He was compelled, for this reason, to decline the superior court judgeship of this circuit last fall, when it was practically tendered him unanimously. He had already written a card declining to make the race for last night's election, and withdrew it only at the earnest appeal of scores of the best men of the city who, understanding the importance of pending litigation, were anxious to keep him in position. Although he knew perfectly well that a slate involving his defeat had been arranged, he yielded to these appeals, and consented to serve, if elected, even at continued financial sacrifice. The people had elected him when he needed the office and he did not feel justified in abandoning the public service when his private practice had made him independent of it. He said to his friends last night, when apprised of the result, that he was more than satisfied with it, but

The duties on wool and woolen goods | Atlanta always gives, and that his energy and | Ex Governor Porter, of Tennessee, says what precedes this as simple justice to a public official, and as the practically unanimous opinion of our people. A distinguished gentleman-an ex-governor of the state-said on yesterday:

"I have watched the city of Atlanta for many a year. I have heard of carelessness, mismanagement and even of corruption in one department or another, but I have never heard one word against the wisdom, watchfulness or integrity of the city attorney's office. I consider Mr. Newman the best public officer I ever saw." This gentleman spoke the views of THE CONSTITUTION, and we are sure there are not one hundred people out of the 50,000 that make up this great eity that would gainsay one syllable of these words.

THE CITY TICKET.

The sweeping change in the city officers ast night is unusual if not unprecedented. The clerkship is the only important office left in the hands of the old officials, Mr. Goldsmith catching on by the skin of his teeth. Marshal Joyner was ineligible under the law for re-election, but it is said will be an assist tant under Mr. Loyd. The election of Mr Lovd by a unanimous vote of the council and aldermen is a compliment we do not remem ber to have seen bestowed on any marshal heretofore, and is one that he must appreciate It forestalls the criticism of even those who might have opposed his election. For ourselves we are satisfied that Mr. Loyd will make good marshal and will justify the unanimous choice of the council-and in this respect we ndorse the action of last night. In the election of Mr. McCandless as treasurer, the council acted safely and well. Mr. Farrar has made an excellent officer, and is a man of the highest integrity, but all this can be said of Mr. McCandless, and the choice between them is simply a matter of personal preference.

We are frank to say that THE CONSTITUTION yould have preferred to see City Engineer Clayton and Recorder Glenn remain in position. They have made exceptionally fine officers, had just become fairly settled to their work, and we believe should have been retained. But the council is sovereign in its elections, and has decided against our views. Mr. Angier, who succeeds Mr. Clayon, and Mr. Anderson, who succeeds Mr. Glenn, are men of ability and character. and will doubtless fill their respective offices to public satisfaction. They have been elected after a prolonged fight, and they are entitled to the support and confidence of the people in opening the discharge of their dues. Atlanta is a great city and has a great future. There should be no bickerings or actious opposition. And the defeat of fa corites should not be allowed to obstruct the work of new officers. The people elect the ouncil, and the council elects the officials THE CONSTITUTION accepts the result of last night's election frankly and cheerfully and will hold up the hands of each and every offiial in the work that is before him.

It is a mystery to a southern man how these hotels can be made to pay for such a short season. They are kept on the most expensive style, and have the very best appointments. Among the waiters in the dining room at the place where we waiters in the dining room at the place where we are stopping I find eleven students of the Michigan university, who are spending their summer vacation earning an honest hving by waiting in the dining room. of this western country, and it is all that is needed in my opinion to make the south outstrip the west in prosperity.

This lake has about one hundred mi es of coast, and yet there is no part of it over two miles wide. It is situated in the timbered region of Minnesota, and the shore is covered with beautiful groves of trees, shading luxuriant grass that grows everyware, even to the edge of the water.

On the crystal waters of the lake steamers as large as the wississipp inver steamers and as small as an ordinary sail boat carry passengers and freight from point to point, and there are numerous fleets of small boats to supply the demand for fishing and sail. A small row-boat can be hired for an hour with fishing tackle and bait for twenty-five cents, or the whole day for one dollar. The improvements where the Park hotel is now skuated was first made in 1879 by an association incorporated by the lexislature, composed of several churches. The object was to provide a summer resort for moral recreation and instruction, after the plan of the Chanta quameetings in New York. The plan originally adopted was financially a failure, but the buildings were purchased by a company, and Mr. J. W. Hutchinson leased it for a summer hotel and it has been a grand success. They have from ten to twenty-five thousand visitors during the summer, which means here not more than ninety days.

There is no better place to spend a month in the summer than on this lake. On a trip over its bays and around its islands you can get with every stroke of the paddle a different scene that looks like a picture; the air is cool and invigorating, perfectly pure, and medical men say is filled with ozone and oxygen, which acts as a tonic on the system, invigorating the circulation and strengthening the nerves.

Eighteen miles from the lake is Minneapolis, one of the marvelous cities of the west. It is a city of seventy thousand inhabitants, and yet there are many of its citizens who can remember it when it was a wild pioneer settlement on the east side of the Mississippi, a kind of trading point for the Fort Suelling reservation. Remains and traditions of the Indians are still fresh in the minds of many of its citizens, but no trace is self of their former habitations. go, wo obshels of wheat. Over teree hundred and forty million feet of timber is made by saw mills at these falls. The manufacturing enterprises of this et y are magnificent—all owing to these wonderful falls.

The falls have been extensively improved by the government, notwithstanding the fact that all the power is used by private individuals. Before this improvement the river was inch by inch every year cutting a way through the soft limestone rock, and rapidly transferring the power and falls higher up the river. The whole bed of the river has been covered with plank four inches thick, so as to prevent the water from cutting away the bed. Extensive cement walls have been made, and a splendid dam added to the original falls, all by the government. It cost over a million dellars, and requires from twenty-five to forty thousand per muum to keep it repaired, all of which the government furnishes and appropria es under the plea, as: am informed, of improving the navigation of the Mississippi river. Not one dollar is paid back to the government by the men who own and control the power furnished by this minimum outlay, and the river above the falls is not and never will be navigable. The year that Atlanta donated to the government he hand to build our government building in Atlanta, which cost our city about fifty thousand dollars, the government spent more than that sum to improve the water power for these mill owners.

I mit several of the business men of Minneapolis at a regatua on the take. Among them I found two brothers, natives of North Ca olina, named Caristian. They moved from North Carolina with their father when young passed through Georgia and settled in Alabama, and fluarly, when grown, diffied to the state. From parties who are well acquainted with them I learn that one of these brothers was the first man that ever made flour in the United States by the reduction or patent process. It not only garbles the official report of the proceedings of this meeting, and pretends to give them in full, but makes stat ments which the editor must know are not true. We care nothing for the Telegraph's jealousy of The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, not for its strange antageoism to the new industry in which so many of the people of this section have engaged, but when it undertakes to ridicule the Albany Truck Farmers' union, it must confine itself to facts, or expect to have fix misrepresentations corrected in the plain terms that truth and justice demand. raw back to business here, but the citizens will tot admit it. THE HAMMER AND THE SAW

There's the music of the birds,
And the music of the bees;
There's the music of the forests
In the grand old trees;
Nature's symphony is sweet,
And without a single flaw,
Yet there's nothing like the music
Of the Hammer and the Saw.
Hail to Liberty and Peace!
Hail to Order, Heaven's first law!
And the world's ennobling chorus
Of the Hammer and the Saw

Though the little birds may sing, And the balmy zephyrs blow, Yet the larder may be empty, And the wheat crop low; But when labor strikes a note, Then the heart that was in awe

But when labor strikes a note,
Then the heart that was in awe
Dances lightly to the music
Of the Hammer and the Saw.
Hail to Liberty and Peace!
Hall to Order, Heaven's first law!
And the world's ennobling chorus!
Of the Hammer and the Saw.

The man may not be skilled

For the harp or for the lyre,
But have caught an inspiration
From ambition's noble fire,
"I'll earn my bread and bed,
Though," he cries, "a crust and straw,
While I'm climbing to the music
Of the Hammer and the Saw!"
Hail to Liberty and Peace!
Hail to Order, Heaven's first law!
And the world's ender the straw of the Hammer

Gossip About Combination Candidates-Mr. Gold. Goes in Messrs. Clayton and Newman L. f. Er. Ed. McCandless Gets the Money Begs to Hold.—The Votes.

The result of the city election last night was a genuine surprise to the crowds that hung about the Considerable sharp work was done during the day by the friends the candidates, and evening it was reported that a new combina ion had been formed which would result in the elected of Mr. Park Woodward to the clerkship. Mr. McCandless as treasurer, and retain Messrs. Newman, Clayton and Glenn in their respective It was the general opinion among the crowd in the city hall park when the doors closed on the council, that this combi-nation had been finally made, and would elect its ticket without the loss of a man.

The announcement that the first step in the programme had failed, and that Mr. Goldsmith was elected to the c erk-hip and Mr. Woodward defeated, was received with surprise and put the most observant watchers at sea. It was then believed that the rest of the ticket, consisting of Messrs. McCandless, Newman, Clayton, and Glenn was deleated, but McCandless pulled through by one vote. The friends of Messrs. Newman, Clayton and Glenn then thought that possibly they might also make it. But the result showed that Mr. McCandless's strength was exceptional.

The night's doings will be found fully portrayed below by a scribe who hung around the edges of the

When the city council convened last night the council chamber was crowded to an overflowing degree by the numerous friends of the many candidates who were before the council for election or dereat. Mayor Goodwin called the body to order, and by the call of the roll it was ascerained that every alderman and councilman was present. The noise made by the spectators became troublesome, and the mayor instructed the city marshal to keep order or to eject the disorderly element. This edict caused quite a sensation, but had the effect of securing quiet.

caused quite a sensation, but had the effect of se-curing quiet.

The mayor, at the conclusion of the roll call, order having been secured, stated that the first thing for the council to dispose of was the tax ordinance for 1883. He dee ded, in response to inquiry, that the ordinance would have to be read again, as the reading at the afternoon session was not witnin the letter of the law. Councilman Dunning then read the ordinance complete and at the conclusion of the reading it was adopted. The ordinance for 1882, the every change being a slight and immaterial one.

dinance for 1882, the every change being a slight and immaterial one.

Before the reading of the ordinance began, however, it was ascerielined that the council chamber was exceedingly hot and disagreeable. That the crowd could not maintain order a motion to a djourn to the eity court room was offered and adopted. The body instantily started pell mell for the city court room and the deuse throng kept the councilman close company. In the center of the room were two tables, on one of these were a tub of lemonade and a bowl of punch. Around the other table were thirteen chairs and quickly the members appropriated the seats as far as ney would go and then called upon Marshal Joyner for more chairs. The call was responded to with alacrity.

Alderman Lowry moved that the ordinance commutee have 500 copies of the tax ordinance for 1883 p.i.ted. Adopted.

Councilman Gray moved a reconsideration of the action of the council at its moroting session relative to Crawford's and Mrs. Mangum's retail liquor license and that they be permitted to contiaue business until the next meeting of the council. The motion prevailed Councilman Brotherton moved that the council take a short recess, for the purpose of allowing the aldermante boad to act upon the council's resolution fixing the salary of the assistant engineer at $1,200 per annum. The metion prevailed.

Immediately after the adoption of Councilman Brotherton's resolution, and the consequent recess of the council, there was a general rush of the spectators for the lemonade stand. The lemonade had been purchased with a jack pot, made up by the candidates, and was intensed for the councilmen As soon as the candidates saw, the pleblans diving for the cooling beverage they set Marshal Joyner upon them, and with an upraised stick he made the charge, which caused the herd to flee with a single exception—that acception was Mr. Albert Wrenn. The stick didn't frighten him, and with a wink of one eye and a smite directed toward Marshal Joyner, he picked up a glass and, filling it with lemonade, smacked his lips and opened his lips Marshal Joyner grabbed fi, and saying 'No jor don't," emptied the contents back into Lac tub. Mr. Wrenn smiled and the crowd laughed. All of this was going on while the alderm incloance of the council to order it was ascertained that the aldermen had agreed, as the council did in the atternoon, to give the assistant engineer's salary, and when the mayor's gavel again called the council to order it was ascertained that the aldermen had agreed, as the council did in the atternoon, to give the assistant engineer's salary, and when the mayor's gavel again called the council to order it was ascertained that the aldermen had agreed, as the council did in the atternoon, to give the assistant engineer's salary, and when the mayor's gavel noon, to give the assistant engineer show per an num, but that he was to be paid only for what work he did at that rate, and was to work only when his services are absolutely needed.

The agreement of the council to the aldermanic board acceptance of their resolution relative to the assistant engineer's salary was the ast thing done with open doors. For a minute there was no business before the council. Each member looked at his brother member and smiled. Then he looked at the vas. throng of citizens and winked. Finally councilman, impressed with the greatness of the work before the body, moved that "We do now go into secret session and elect officers." The motion prevailed, and in the twinking of an eye Marshat Joyner cleared the room. Cand dates and spectators were treated alike and shoved out. pointed two weeks ago for this very work, was told to "git".

Once outside the door everybody's attention was turned to the key hole, but Mr. Albert Wrenn again play d the grand act and placing his ear to the key hole said: "A'st." Everybody "n'st d," and then the hum of voices loside began, while on the out side only such expressions as "I'll bet Goldsmith gets left." "I wooder if my aunt will be elected." "Give me Howell Gleun." "What are they doing?" were heard Presently Mr. Ween was heard to say. "H'st, Goldsmith 2, Woodward 4, Goldsmith 6, "Goldsmith" cleeted." Of course this created a sti, and in a few seconds the door was opened and Mr. Goldsmith was leist the door was opened and Mr. Goldsmith was leist a trited to enter. This confirmed Mr. Wr. nn's story, and in a few seconds the large crowd in the yard below had heard the news To some it was pleasant, wrile others didn't like it. It could not be understood by one-element, and quickly the ticket that was made some weeks ago was declared, beaten. A moment later some one threw a scrap of paper from the window above into the yard below on which was written. "McCandless, T, Fatrar, 6."
"What does that mean," remarked a gentleman. from the window above into the year of which was written, "McCandless, 7, Farrar, 6." "What does that mean," remarked a gentleman "Goldsmith and McCandless! Well, city politics

"Goldsmith and McCandless! Well, city politics are strange thing."
Then the crowd quieted down, for the marshal was the next office, and Mr. Loyd had no opposition. During the bailot for this position Mr. Sam Venable held court in the superior courtreom, and just as he was delivering his charge to a jury, Mr. Wreun, whose ear was still at the key ho.e, said: "Loyd got thirteen votes Now comes the election for record-r. Lord biess my soul, it they just elect Mowell Glenn, my oid para, then l'rib ea ali right." Then he began announcing the vote, and wound up by deploring the fact that "his pard" had "been beat." This was enough for Mr. Wrenn, and he resigned his seat to Deputy Marshal Dimmick, who then became the delephone line from the secret session to he crowd outside. Thus the election went on until the list was completed, when the doors were thrown open. From the record it was found that the result was:

ed—H. T. McDaniel 6, Mr. Saunders 3, Joseph Scrutchens 1.

The election gives the city the following official directory for the next two years: City elerk, J. B. Goldsmith; treasurer, Edward S. McCandless; marshal, James Loyd; recorder, J. a. Anderson; city attorney, Edgar A. Angier; tax receiver and collector, D. A. Cook; tax assessors, Clem Harris, and J. W. McCrary; city sextion, W. B. Bonnell; city hall keeper, Jake Morris; city magazine keeper, James Tourman; city physician, First ward. Dr. Godkin; Second ward. Dr. Kerstan; Third ward, Dr. D. ar; chief of fire department, W. R. Joyner; building inspectors, J. C. Peck. Calvin Fay and G. Leo; assistant engineer Mr. McDaniel.

Before the election had been completed the crowd below had about dispersed, seemingly satisfied. Mr. Wood ward's name, for the cierkship, was brought out only a few days ago.

There was considerable money up on the result. One gentleman along lost $150 while many others Lst So and $10 bets. One rather perplexing feature of the election is that presented by Mr. W. R. Joyner, wonld be his deputy. When his name was presented for chief of the-fire department he was in the chamber and announced that he was not a candidate, but despite this fact he was elected. Mr. Joyner electanes that seven of his friends voted for Mr. Loyd for marshal with the understanding that he, Mr. Joyner, would be his deputy. When his name was presented for chief of the-fire department he was in the chamber and announced that he was not a candidate, but despite this fact he was elected. Mr. Joyner elaims that he is deputy marsha and openly made this statement last night. From all that could be ascertained atter the adjournment last night it is believed that the meeting was a quiet and pleasant one. elleved that the meeting was a quiet and pleasant

One.

There is a probability that there will be a disagreement about the deputy marshal's place. Mr. Joyner claims the place and says that seven votes given Mr. Loydlwere the votes of his friends, and that when they were given Mr. Loyd it was with the understanding that he was to be deputy. Mr. Dimmick also claims that he is entitled to the place of deputy marshal, and bases his claims upon the same grounds as does Mr. Joyner.

Mr. Stephens's opinion of his pupil can be had from the following letter, which we are permitted to print:

"National Hotel, Washington, D. C., February 18, 1881—16 the Honorable City Council of Atlants; I understand that Mr. Edgar A. Angier, of Atlants; is an applicant for the position of city attorney for your city. I know Mr. Angier well. He studied haw with me. I esteem him as a gentleman of energy and ability, and of good character. I know nothing of his competitors for the position, but feel assured, in commending him to you, that he is one who, if appointed, will discharge the duties of the position with ability, fidelity and efficiency. Very respectfully.

Mr. A gier has been engaged in the practice of law in Atlanta for several years; is a close student and a most energed worker. He was a candidate for city attorney two years ago, and has given much of his time to the study of corporation law. His friends, and he has a hos of them, speak with confidence of his future, and while they do not claim that he is the equal in corporation practice of Captain Newman, who is without an equal, perhaps, in the state of Georgia in this department of the lew, I they do claim that he nas laid the basis for a useful and efficient career, and that his record for the two years to which he has been elected will commend him to public approval. There is no more important office connected with the city government than the attorneyship, and The Construction indorses the nopes of Mr. Angier's friends and wishes him god speed in the discharge of his operations and several and a proper and the discharge of his operations and a speed in the discharge of his operations and a proper and Miss Alcott on Girls.

Miss Louisa M. Alcott on Girls.

Miss Louisa M. Alcott, who has made a study of girl life and has presented it in all its phrases so delightfully and satisfactorily, has now the little daughter sent to her protection by her dying sister to give her a fresh interest in girls. She finds at once that all the theories presented in her books must be made now into a tangible plan of education. The little girl left to her care must be carefully led in the right paths, a far more anxious task than placing the book heroines in their proper position. Yet the thoughts about girls now concentrated upon one are decided and firm. Miss Alcott writes in a little New York pape. her general plan of education for her one liv-ing girl. She says: 'Health comes first, and an early knowledge of truth, obedience and self-control; then such necessary lessons as all must learn, and later such accomplishments must learn, and later such accomplishments as taste and talent lead her to desire; a profession or taste to fall back upon in time of need, that she may not be too dependent or too proud to work for her bread. And she sensibly adds: "No late hours, unwholesome pleasures and dress, no mixing of school and flirtation, but simply amusements, daily dutter and a purpose in life to keep them girls of ties and a purpose in life to keep them girls at beart, even while preparing for the work and happiness of women." In her description of the way in which she desizes her charge to grow to womanhood, Miss Alcott has in reality sketched the plan for producing the new fashioned girl, a girl quite different in character and manners from he supposed product of to-day, represented by the James school of novelists. Health is the first requisite, gained not by late hours, unwnolesome pleasures and dress and mixing of school and flirtation, but by simply amusements, healthful exercise and daily duties. With health, the knowledge of truth, ob-dience and self-control will be made easier of attainment, though a perfect knowledge of the worth of truth, obedience and self-control can only come after many years of patient endcavor, stimulated by a kind and firm di-rection. Finally, the "purpose in life," the profession of taste, must be cultivated. The dea, which is fast coming out of the timid, experimental stage, is at the basis of the character of the newest fashioned girl.

SENTENCE OF REMOVAL.

The Irish Revolutionists Pronounce Sentence of Den(h NEW YORK, July 2.- A statement is printed here that in an interview with a prominent member of the Irish revolutionary brother-hood, the latter said that at the late meeting of the order, Chief Justice Coller-edge, of England, had the sen-tence of death passed upon him, because of the manner in, which he conducted the trial of Dr. Gallagher, Wilson and others, who are commonly known as dynamite conspirators. He said the brotherhood had branches in Ireland and England, that could remove Colleredge, and informers on the other side of the Atlantic as well as on this.

meet promptly, as there will be no delay. Frierson, real es ate agent, 10 Wall street.

A FRIERSON. Auctioneer.—FINE central property on For stavenue and Collins street, at auction to-day, at five o'clock, on premises. I will sell on premises to-dey for Messrs. W. M. and R. J. Lowry, all of the beautiful property, except corner lot, known as the "Arnold place," on southeast corner of Forest avenue and Collins street. The location is central and easy of access, being less than one conce east of Peachtree street car line, and the new Forest Avenue Horse Car line, will run immediately in front of two lots and within a few steps of the others, which will greatly increase their value and convenience. The neighborhood and surrounding are strictly first class, being oullt up with fine residences and occupied by the best of families. Forest avenue is a beautiful street as fara at its improved, and now that it is being extended and nicely graded through to Jackson street, it will be a great thoroughfare and popular drive to the Boulevard and springs, causing property on it to increase in demand and value, and the street to become even more attractive and popular than it now is, authough it is now greatly admired and universally regarded as one of the pretuest, most attractive and desirable residence streets in Adanta, and by many is preferred to Peachtree, because it is near Peachtree street and horse cars, yet is freer from dust and noise, and therefore more pleasant. No one can fail to admire the wealend of Forest avenue, or appreciate it for quiet pleasant and heauthful homes; nor can any one, after trying it, fail to be del ghted with its rare combination of advantages and attractions. If do not believe that any resident of the west end of Forest avenue would prefer Peachtree. The lots are level, beautiful and covered with fine shade and fruit trees, choice flowers, shrubbery, etc. In fact, they are all that could be desired, and are truly the gems of Forest avenue. The Collins street to leas and spring and a supple and fruit trees, choice flowers, shrubbery, etc. In fact, they are all that could be desired, and are truly the gems of Forest avenue. The Collins street toos are also very desirable and valuable for either homes or investment, as they partake of the same advantages of situation, surroundings, neighborhood, conveniences, accessibility by horse-cars, proximity to, Peachtree, quiet and freedom from dust and noise, and will also be increased in value and attractiven-ss by the new horse-car line. The house and lot, on lot No. 3, is a nice, well built, conveniently arranged at dvery substantial 7 room dwelling, which is in good condition; is on a choice, large lot, and is very desirable for a home or investment, as its pleasant and convenient situation and its excellent surroundings will always is sure good tenants and good interest, while it will standily and rapidly fincrease in value. All who want-leatus should be sure to examine this fine property-and none who want homes on Forest avenue can afford to neglect this opportunity. There is not another lot on that beautiful street that any beying the who busy for a home, will ever be contented; he who fails, may never cease to regret it. Titles unquestionable. Truns one-third cash, balance six and twoive months with 8 per cent interest. Free did on Peachtree street ears, leaving Taylor's drug store at five o'clock, sharp. T. A. State of Georgia, Fulton County—To the Superior Court of said county:

THE PETITION OF JFSSEW. RANKIN, PRYand John C. Kirkpatrick res, ectifully shows that the Central Presbyterian church has been established in said county for many years past, worshipping under the Presbyterian form of worship, and does now continue so to worship and conduct services, and is known by the name of the Central resbyterian church of Albanta. Said church is composed of a large number of members, amounting to perhaps more than four hundred of male and female, and they desire to be incorporated with authority to enforce good order, receive donations, make purchases and affect alienations of reality or personality by deed or mortgage, not for purposes of trade and profit, but for promoting the general interests of the church in the use of the methods generally applied in the Presbyterian denomination. Petitioners pray that they and their associates and successors composing what is called the Central Presbyterian church of Atlanta. may be incorporated by an order of this honorable court for the term of twenty years with the right of succession as provided by law and with the powers above mentioned. Petitioners, pray for such an order as this honorable court may deem proper according to law for the purpose of carrying this petition into effect.

The report showed that $1.771.05 of this was col lected in April, $1,669.30 in May and $1,374.32

Mr. J. A. Anderson's, city tax collector, report was read. It showed the collections to June 26, 1883, to be $144,665.93; collections since June 26, 1883, to be $150.32; making a total of $144,816.25. On collections to June 26 discounts were allowed to the extent of $4,474.20; making the aggregate collections and discounts $149,290.45. There is one pipe only taken out of the 16-inch main that enters into the distribution; this is at Rawson street and is carried into the Whitehall street pipe at Windsor street, so that it will be seen that the city is being supplied through a 12-inch pipe. six and twelve-inch pipes combined, or an area equal to an 83% inch pipe.

In order to utilize the entire 16-inch main the superintendent asks that a connection be made at Richardson street and a 10-inch pipe be run east to Washington and McDonough streets. "This," the report says, "would greatly help, and if possible, to run out west and connect with Whitehall and Peters would and connect with Whitehall and reters would give a pressure in all parts of the city much better than we can expect to have unless this plan is adopted." #### MERCHANTS IN COUNCIL.

MEETING OF THE NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Yesterday morning there was a large meet ing of the members of the new chamber of commerce in the basement of the courthouse. Major B. E. Crane presided and Mr. Aaron Haas acted as secretary. At a former meet ng the constitution and by-laws submitted by a committee appointed to draft them had been partially considered. Their consideraion was resumed and the entire instrument dopted without any material change. The closest controversy on any point was on the yearly dues of members. The report fixes the mount at $20, payable quarterly in advance. Mr. E. P. Chamberlin moved to amend by naking it $10, and the motion was lost by nly one vote.

On the authority of the transportation com

by a proposed addition to the by-laws by Mr. Fitzsimons to the effect that when the committee had arranged with any line for trans mittee had arranged with any line for transportation after getting the best possible rate it should be cause for forfeiture of membership for any member to ship by another line. There was objection to any such provision by Captain Enrish Mr. Elias Haiman and Mr. Haas, who remarked, after the penalty for disobeying the committee's recommendation had been read: "Suppose you hang him." Mr. D. M. "Suppose you hang him." Bain and other members thought that the Bain and other members thought that the object aimed at by Mr. Fitzsimons was good, and asked him to frame his article in more agreeable form. Finally, on motion of Mr. H. W. Grady, the question was postponed until a fuller discussion of its merits could be had. In the bylaws the fee for membership was fixed at $100 after this date. The constiwas fixed at $100 after this date. The consti tudon and by-laws, as adopted, preserve all the best features of the old constitution, such as the arbitration plan, and have several im-provements. They were modeled generally the country.

The report of the building committee was submitted by Mr. E. P. Chamberlin, chairman of the committee. It announced the purchase of the two lots opposite the court house giving a frontage of 53 feet on Pryor street and the purchase of 125 feet. To the Baker estate $4. a depth of 125 feet. To the Baker estate $4,-430 cash is paid for the lot next to the corner. For the corner lot Miss Mary Oglesby receives $9,000, $5,000 in cash and $4,000 in sixty days which if not then paid is to bear 7 per cent interest. The report was adopted with one dissenting voice, that of Mr. J. N. Dunn, who said be did not like the lot.

The building committee was authorized to employ an attorney to examine the titles to the property. The plan for the immediate the property. The plan for the immediate erection of a $30,000 building is thus set forth in the by-laws:

"Section 14. The board of directors shall appoint a committee of five members to be known as the committee on real estate and building, which committee shall have and exercise a general supervision and control of all matters pertaining to the real estate that may be owned by the association and th building to be erected thereon; they shall procure plans for and estimates of the cost of the building to be erected on said real estate; they shall prepare some financial plan of plans for raising the amount of money necessary for the purchase of said real estate and for the construction of said building, all of which shall be submitted to the association for action.

"Section 15. After the association shall have approved the plans and estimates for the building, and the plans for raising the neces ary amount of money, this committee shall oceed in accordance therewith to negotiate for and raise the said amount and place the same in the hands of the treasurer; they shall also cause to be erected, with as little delay as is consistent with the interest of the asso ciation, said building, either by contract or otherwise, provided the same shall have been approved by the directors.

Section 16. This committee shall have power to lease such parts of the building to be erected as are not required for the use of the association, and the leases it may make shall be executed by the president and secre-

After the adoption of the constitution and by-laws, an effort was made by several mem-bers to go into the election of officers. The point was raised that the constitution required ation to be held vesterday. The however, sustained a point made by Mr. J. C Kimball that such regulations did not apply to this, the first meeting, and that it would be competent to continue the meeting from day to-day if necessary. On motion of Mr. H. W. Grady the election was ordered for to-day, the polls to be open in the basement of the court ouse from 10 a.m. to 2 p m., and each mem house from 10 a.m. to 2 p m., and each membership to be entitled to one vote. The following gentlemen were appointed tellers R. B. Bullock Darwin G. Jones, W. S. Gramling, R. H. Knapp and J. R. Wylie. A motion to appoint a committee on nominations was lost, and it is understood that there will be a general meeting at 10 o'clock this morning to hear nominations, after which the helicity will be an end of the helicity will be a second or the second of the second the balloting will begin. Two hundred and two members had paid their membership fees up to the time of meeting yesterday. Only those who have paid can vote to-day

BACK FROM THE WEST. The Return of the Berry Excursion Party-What They Say of the 1rip.

On Sunday ex-Governor Boynton and the party who went with him on the trip to the northwest returned to Atlanta in a special car from Chicago, arriving here at four o'clock on Sunday morning. The party were all in fine health and have enjoyed the trip im-

"I did not anticipate such a pleasant trip when I started. The people in the cities we visited were very kind and courteous to us. We were the citizens of the places we visited. The expressed gratification that we had visited them and we met a great many who say they expect to visit Georgia next winter. The state has a fine name in the northwest, in fact I can say that it makes a Georgian proud of his state to hear the comments of the people of the northwest on its position in business, health and progress."

Governor Boynton had with him his wife Governor Boynton had with him his wife, his wife's sister and his wife's niece, who made the trip and were also well pleased with their visit. Hon. Mark Johnson had visited the country before, but not on such an extended scale as on this trip. He was deeply impressed with the country and says that the people of the northwest are progressive, friendly and energetic. Mrs. Johnson accompanied him on the trip. Mr. C. A. Collier, who was along, says he was delighted with the trip and enjoyed it very much. Mr. W. P. Mitchell also indorses all that has been said about the pleasures of the trip. A communication from the aldermanic board agreeing to fix the salary of the chief of fire depariment at $1,350 per annum, instead of $1,500, as suggested by the council at its last meeting, was read and concurred in. Messrs. Moore, Marsh & Co. presented a letter recommending John M. Paden for magazine keeper. The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road notified the council that the bridge # that furnishes a splendid water power for the city. It is in the midst of the coal region of Iowa, and they can get splendid steam coal at $2.50 per ton, consequently it is a considerable manufacturing city. They have recently built a new capitol, the fluishing touches to which will be given this year. It will cost three and a half million dollars. It was built under the direction of an architect, with day labor, and is certainly one of the most complete capitols in the union. Democrats and republicans all agree, too, that it is one public building where the state has not lost a dollar by jobbery. The building is of polished granite, with the inside finished in elegant style in walnut and cherry. All the wainscotting on the first floor warms in the state of the control of the state of wainut and cherry. All the wainscotting on the first floor, except in the rooms, is highly polished marble and the building is supplied with large columns of marble and splendid tile floors. In fact, in appearances, it equals the capitol at Albany, New York, and will be finished for about one-fifth the cost of that building. There is a friendly rivarry between the two political parties in the state to see who, whall convey the near wilding. shall occupy the new building first. The democrats have great hopes that they will inaugurate their governor this fall in the building. The republicans seem con-fident that they will retain the majority, but they admit that, on account of the pro tion issue which enters largely into the politics of the state, their majority will be reduced. This is the only issue, except the tariff, that is mentioned at all in state politics. nittee there was some discussion precipitated The constitution of the state of lows has been amended by the republicans so a to virtually prohibit the sale of liquor in the state, and the fight is on this amendment. A judge of the supreme court in the state who was a republican decided adversely to the amendment and it was the purpose of many leading. publican decided adversely to the amend ment and it was the purpose of many leading republicans, Senator Kirkwood amon the number, to have this judge nominated it the candidate of the republicans for governor but he was not successful and Governor She man was re-nominated, and he is a firm ad vocate of the amendment. A large number of Germans in the state—has always voted with the republica party. It is now claimed to party. It is now claimed the democrats that on account of the amend ment and the position of the republican party on prohibition that these Germans will go almost solidly for the democratic ticket. they are correct in this it will certainly elethe democratic nominees. It all depends however, on the amount of disaffection pro hibition will create in the republican ranks.

The city is situated nearly in the center of the state. Two large rivers, the Coon and the Des Moines, neither navigable, come to gether within the corporate limits of the city From the confluence of these two stream and for twelve or fifteen miles square arou the city limits, are bluffs and hills, on whi the city is built. From the steps of th the city is built. From the steps of the capitol it looks like a vast amphitheater surrounded all around with a level, prairie country. The river is spanned by eight bandsome, substantial bridges. There is un derlying the city, and for miles around it inexhaustible fields of coal. It sells for steam purposes in Des Moines, at $2.50 per ton. The city was surveyed in 1846. In 1850, it contained 502 inhabitants in 1860, 3 955, in 1870. ed 502 inhabitants; in 1860, 3.965; in 1870 2.035; in 1880, 22,696, and to day they 5,000. Thirteen railroads empty their of freight and passengers there. The railroads develop some of the ichest agricultural regions of the state. Thi makes the city a grand commercial center and is fast building up a large wholesale trade Other new lines are expected, and will come The transactions in real estate for amounted to about four million dollars. The citizens did not commence to pave and sewen the city until 1882. There has been expend d for paying since then one hundred and fity thousand dollars.

After leaving Des Moines the party went in special cars to Davenport, Iowa, and Rock Island. These two cities are on the Missis sippi river, the former on the west side and the latter on the east side of the river. The island from which the latter city derives its name lies between the two cities. The par arrived at Rock Island, took quarters at the Harper house, and the next morning were shown through the arsenal on Rock Island shown through the arsenal on Rock Island. The party was very courteously shown through the government buildings by Colonel D. W. Flagler. The government has spent over nine million dollars in the arsenal works on the island. They have an immense water power furnished by the Mississippi river that turns the machinery for making materials to arm and equipthe soldiers. They can equip twenty-five hundred soldiers ready for the field in twenty-four hours. In other words, they can take twenty-five hundred for the field in twenty-four hours. In other words, they can take twenty-five hundred eitizens every twenty-four hours and put them in the field ready for fighting. The works are as complete as it is possible for money to make them. Built out of solid masonry all the buildings are all same buildings of the same kind without any unnecessary ornament and filled with the pest and most improved machinery. They best and most improved machinery. They have a splendid rolling mill and all machinery necessary to make up a perfect arsenal for manufacturing the arms, accountements, and even clothing, caps and shoes. There is stored in the yard of the arsenal many thousand pieces captured from the confederate government. They have an immense manufacturing establishment for making ammunication. acturing establishment for making ammun ion, shot and shell and all the various kind of ordnance used in war. This island wa made famous during the war as a federa prison and a few of the buildings are pointer ut to visitors as the places where the United tates confined confederate prisoners.

Our fellow citizen, Dr. Thomas S. DUNNING & ALLEN. "Unlucky Corner." ATLANTA, GEORGIA,

July 2, 1883. To my Customers and Friends:

This being the end of my first year's business on my individual account, I take this method of returning my thanks to my customers and friends for heir generous support. More ti one hundred Atlanta retail grocers, and many hundreds of South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama merchants, are favoring me with their patronage, for which I am truly grateful.

It has not been my aim to do the largest, but rather to do the safest and best trade, and in this I flatter myself I have succeeded far beyond my expectations. While the percentage of profits on my sales has been small, my customers, almost without an exception, have met their engagements promptly, and for this I am doubly thankful.

I now commence my second year of "single blessedness" (commercially) under more favorable auspices, and with much improved facilities, and intend to try to deserve, and hope to receive, the continued confidence and support of the trade. Mr. F. M. Akers will continue to represent me on the Richmond and Danville railroad and its branches, and contiguous points. Mr. A. W. Crookshanks on the two railroads leading from Atlanta to Macon, and on the West Point road, and the Griffin and North Alabama railroad and contiguous points. Mr. F. S. Simmons on the Georgia railroad. Western and Atlantic road, East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, and Georgia Pacific railroad and tributary points, and Mr. I. M. Markham will continue to represent me with the Atlanta city trade.

Having full confidence in the business capacity, politeness and integrity of these gentlemen, I confidently commend them to the kind consideration of the trade.

Very Respectfully, A. C. WYLY. Wholesale Grocer.

JUNE WEATHER.

Comparative Statement of its femperature and Pecus The following review of the weather for June and the interesting comparison with the record for the same month, since 1876, has been compiled by Captain E. J. Redding, of the state agricultural department, from the record kept by himself: Harlties for the Past Eight Years.

96 2 6 8 75.8 3.47 8 The table develops the following character istics of the weather of the past month: The maximum, or highest point attained by the thermometer, was 91 degrees and oc-curred on the 23d and 24th days of the month, being 4 degrees lower than the average maximum for the whole period. The mini-maximum for the whole period. The minimum, or lowest temperature, 54 degrees, occurred on the morning (before day) of the June 1st. The weather promptly reacted, however, and the thermometer marked 61 degrees a, 7 a, m, of the same day—as shown by the record. The mean temperature was normal, being only 0.2 degrees above the average for the eight years.

The rainfall—only 2.34 inches—was less by The rainfall—only 2.34 inches—was less by 1 13 inches than the average for the period, but greater than that of the Junes of 1876 or 1882. The month was not remarkably dry, but the fact that May was "short" on rainfall—only 1.52 inches in that month—operated as a "handicap" on June, and gardens and most summer crops in the vicinity of Atlanta have suffered seriously in consequence. On the whole, the month has been rather favorable for the farmer, especially in the matter of temperature.

mer, especially in the matter of temperature There was no scorching heat and the night have been deliciously cool and refreshing. THE NEW PASTOR.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Barnett, of the First Presbyterlar A few weeks ago Rev. Dr. Barnett, formerly of Virginia, assumed the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, of this city. He was so highly esteemed in the Virgin a Presbytery that it was with difficulty his services were secured by the attention coversation. cured by the Atlanta congregation. Dr. Bar nett has taken hold of his new charge with an energy that shows him to be a thorough pastor, while the excellence of his sermons guarantees that he will be largely useful in pastor, while the excelence of his sermons guarantees that he will be largely useful in the pulpit.

Last Sunday the First Presbyterian church was well filled. The choir sang "Nearer my God to Thee" beautifully. After administering the ordinance of infant bap ism and receiving two applicants into the church, Dr. Barnett read his text from the 26th verse of the 12th chapter of Exodus—"What mean ye by this service?"

If It was the day for the communion service and the sermon had reference to that rite. The text, said the preacher, was part of the direction of Moses to the children of Isael when they were about to go out from Egyptian bondage. He was giving them instruction concerning the slaying of the lamb the sprinkling of the door posts, the first feast of the bassover. Then he had said that when their children asked them "what mean you by this service?" they should tell them how it spoke of God's deliverance and mercy. But this feast foretokers a greater feast. It spoke of a greater than Moses; of a more awful pillar of fire; of deliverance from more than Egyptian bondage. The world asks of the church to-day, when it observes the holy communion of Christ, "What mean ye by this service?" It is full of lessons for us. In the first place it is a commemorative service. "Do this in remembrance of me." It reminds us of the Savior. I would that it would speak to you to day of Jesus and of nothing else. I would that you would go home talking and thinking, not of the service, not of the sermon, not of the preacher; but of Jesus. I would make your whole life a memory of Jesus.

us the love of God even more forcibly, I think, than the fires of His wrath. He so loved the world that He gave His only Son to die for it. It teaches the complete atonement of Christ's death. Luther said he of Christ's death. Luther said he dreamed once that to him with a long roll. He commenced to unroll it, and at the top He commenced to unroll it, and at the top were the sins of Luther's youth. "Do you remember these?" asked the devil. "Yes," replied Luther, and then the devil unrolled further, and there were the sins of his manhood, and then further the sins of his later days. He remembered them all, but when the devil stopped Luther said to the devil, "Roll on!" and the devil unrolled further, and there underneath all the dark record were the words. "The blood of dark record were the words."

dark record were the words: "The blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin!" Then, says Luther, the devil flew away.

After drawing other lessons from the teach-

After drawing other lessons from the teachings of the service the preacher remarked, in the third place, that the communion was a covenant, a covenant signed and sealed be tween God and man, promising obedience and love on the part of man and forgiveness and protection on the part of God. It is a covenant also that he will write his law on our hearts so that we may know you say you are sayed and hearts so that we may know now to serve and honor him. The last idea was well elaborated and completed a sermon that was heard with profound interest throughout.

Dr. Barnett is a clear thinker—an earnest and impressive speaker. He seems to try to get at the deep and good meaning of his text, rather than to display any accomplishments of his own. of his own.

The impression he has made in Atlanta is very pleasant and augurs a useful career for him as pastor of one of the largest churches in the city. At the conclusion of the sermon Sunday Dr. Barnett read the names of twelve or fifteen persons who had been received by certificates. The First Presb terian church is in a most flourishing condition.
